

February 10, 2010

Dear Friend:

The following is to invite you to our upcoming Vision Banquet 2010. This banquet is sponsored by Puerto Rico Baptist College and it is specifically for teens, their parents, pastors and educators, with the purpose of introducing PRBC, a place where young people can prepare for the Lord's work in a Christian, bi-lingual, bi-cultural environment.

At PRBC young people are challenged both spiritually and academically, all while living on the mission field with other young people from different countries. PRBC offers Bachelors degrees in Pastoral Studies, Bible, Missions, Christian Elementary and Secondary Education. This College is perfect for home school graduates because it is small and offers a home atmosphere. There is a very low student to teacher ratio where students are given personal attention. Students can get a good Biblical foundation and then transfer to a major Christian university in the States if they plan to obtain majors other than the ones offered at PRBC. It has served as a stepping stone from home school to a large Christian university.

The banquet is free of charge for adults and teens. There will be a minimal charge for the meal and care of children under 12 years old. If you are a pastor or educator, we would appreciate it if you could bring a group of people. Here is the pertinent information:
